DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 22-25 and 35-37 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant is required to cancel the claim(s), or amend the claim(s) to place the claim(s) in proper dependent form, or rewrite the claim(s) in independent form. These claims clearly employ a photohardened material in the layer that, according to the independent claim, is not photohardened..

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 2871

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371© of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

3. Claims 1, 9-20,-26, 29-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Ohta et al, U.S. Patent # 6,208,399.

The color filter, substrate and BM and pixel/common electrode on the other sustrate is shown in figure 2, 21 and 22. The overcoat being epoxy (a non-exposing type material) or acrylic is listed on col. 11, lines 14-24.

This reference discloses Therefore, these claims are anticipated by this reference.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103© and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

4. Claims 2-8 and 27-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ohta et al, U.S. Patent # 6,208,399.

Lacking from the disclosure is the electrodes on the same substrate, the black matrix of a polymer, and the transparent conductive material as either one of the two electrodes or on the second substrate.

Polymer black matrixes were well known for low cost, transparent conductive material on the second substrate for draining static charge, and these would have been obvious for those reasons. Pixels on the same plane as the common electrodes was a well known functionally equivalent alternative to the same plane, and obvious for that reason. Transparent material for the common pixel was known to increase the aperture, and obvious for that reason.

Conclusion

Art Unit: 2871

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
